The Airborne & Special Operations Museum

presents a
New Exhibit Opening

The 173rd "Sky Soldiers" The Legend Continues

In recognition of a battle that occurred in Vietnam on November 8, 1965, "Operation Hump', a painting by world renowned artist Craig Bone, will be on display highlighting the new exhibit.

Mr. Bone's painting Earth, Wind and Fire is the only Vietnam era painting currently on display in the Pentagon. His new painting was inspired by the story of Mr. Niles Harris, a U.S. Army Veteran and survivor of the battle of November 8th. Mr. Harris' story was captured in the song "8th of November" and poignantly told in the music video performed by Country Music Duo, Big & Rich.

Join us in honoring the soldiers past and present of the 173rd Airborne Brigade

Tuesday, May 19, 9:30 am
Airborne & Special Operations Museum
100 Bragg Blvd.
Fayetteville, NC 28301
With a
Special Presentation by Niles Harris
"Operation Hump"

"Operation Hump"

Expires: 9 JUN 2009